Aishabai College of Education
Report on Anti Ragging

Date: 16th September, 2023.

Venue: Multipurpose hall.

Time: 9:20am to 10:10am

Objectives:

- To create awareness among students on campus about ragging and the department dealing with the same.
- To ensure student safety and allow students to take a stand against wrongful acts.
- To ensure positive environment for all within the campus.

Introduction: Aishabai College of Education conducted an anti-ragging session for the students on campus to make them aware about their rights and provisions, with respect to the department dealing with ragging. Ragging is an area which cannot be left unattended. Every institution has to ensure safe and positive environment for all, whether students or the staff. It is important to raise such issues in broad daylight to enhance one's understanding about the same and to spread awareness. Such a session allows students and others to speak up if they're going through something or even witnessed any similar wrongdoing.

Consideration all the broad objectives, Aishabai College of Education organised a session on Anti-Ragging. The session began with giving a broad insight about what is actually meant by the term ragging, and what all comes under this term. Ragging is defined as demanding a forceful response without any concrete reasons. It often happens among the teenagers within the campus, eg:

seniors forcing juniors to perform any task without their will. Such acts can be in a form of physical, mental, sexual or verbal abuse, etc.

Later the discussion went on to the possible actions that an institution is permissible for the same. Possible actions could be cancellation of admission, suspension, withdrawal of scholarship, debarring from appearing in any test or examination, withholding results, etc. And if the case is severe it is passed on to the higher authorities or even a legal case can be filed.

In the last part of the session, the audience were asked to share their experiences about the same, if any. Few of the students did share their experience and it was like an eye opener for all.

Overall, it was an essential and extremely informative session. Key takeaway for all is Never to remain silent even if you're witnessing a slight wrongdoing.

Outcomes:

- Became aware about anti-ragging.
- Became aware about possible actions that can be taken against a culprit.
- To speak up and take action against the culprit.
