3. Dean Student Welfare is appointed and takes care of the student.

Welfare

The Dean of Student Welfare at Aishabai College of Education plays a pivotal role in ensuring the well-being and holistic development of students. This position is integral to fostering a supportive and nurturing environment that addresses the diverse needs of the student body.

Responsibilities

1. Personal and academic support:

The Dean is responsible for addressing students' personal and academic challenges, providing guidance and resources to help them succeed. For instance, if a student is struggling academically, the Dean may arrange for additional tutoring, counseling, or mentoring support. Similarly, if a student is facing personal issues such as homesickness or financial difficulties, the Dean can offer assistance by connecting them with the appropriate resources or services, such as counseling or financial aid.

2. Health and Well-Being Initiatives:

Ensuring the health and well-being of students is a top priority. The Dean organizes health awareness programs, workshops on mental health, and stress management sessions. For example, the college might host a wellness week, where students can participate in activities like yoga, meditation, and workshops on maintaining a balanced lifestyle. Additionally, the Dean ensures that students have access to healthcare services and emergency support when needed.

3. Student Engagement and Extracurricular Activities:

The Dean actively promotes student engagement through various extracurricular activities, clubs, and organizations. By encouraging participation in these activities, the Dean helps students develop leadership skills, build community, and enhance their overall college experience. For example, the Dean might facilitate the formation of interest-based clubs, such as a debate club, cultural society, or sports team, and provide support for their activities.

4. Grievance Redressal:

The Dean of Student Welfare plays a crucial role in addressing student grievances and ensuring a fair resolution process. For example, if a student has a complaint about academic policies, campus facilities, or interpersonal conflicts, the Dean ensures that the grievance is heard and resolved in a timely and just manner, working closely with relevant committees and departments.

5. Career Guidance and Placement Support:

In collaboration with the Placement Cell, the Dean assists students in preparing for their future careers by organizing career counseling sessions, job fairs, and workshops on resume writing and interview skills. For instance, the Dean may arrange for industry experts to conduct mock interviews, helping students gain confidence and improve their employability.

6. Fostering Inclusivity:

The Dean is committed to creating an inclusive environment where all students feel valued and supported, regardless of their background. Initiatives like diversity and inclusion workshops, cultural events, and support groups for marginalized communities are examples of how the Dean fosters a sense of belonging among students.

The Dean of Student Welfare at Aishabai College of Education is dedicated to ensuring that students have access to the resources, support, and opportunities they need to thrive both academically and personally. Through a combination of personalized support, health and wellness initiatives, student engagement activities, grievance redressal, career guidance, and inclusivity efforts, the Dean plays a crucial role in enhancing the overall student experience and ensuring their well-being throughout their educational journey.

4. Placement officer is appointed.

The Placement Officer at Aishabai College of Education is a vital link between the institution and the job market, tasked with ensuring that students are well-prepared and connected with employment opportunities upon graduation. The placement Officer plays a crucial role in guiding students through the transition from academic life to professional careers.

Key Responsibilities

1. Liaison with Employers:

- The placement Officer establishes and maintains relationships with schools, educational institutions, and other organizations that may employ graduates. This involves networking, attending job fairs, and regularly communicating with potential employers to understand their hiring needs and promote the college's students as ideal candidates.

2. Organizing Placement Activities:

- The placement officer coordinates on-campus recruitment drives, inviting various schools and educational organizations to conduct interviews and selection processes at the college. This includes organizing pre-placement talks, interviews, group discussions, and other recruitment activities.

3. Career Counseling and Guidance:

- Providing career guidance is a key responsibility. The Placement officer advises students on career paths, helping them understand the opportunities available within the education sector and related fields. This might include one-on-one counseling sessions, workshops on resume writing, interview preparation, and professional etiquette.

4. Training and Skill Development:

- The placement officer identifies the skills and competencies that are in demand by employers and works with the faculty to organize training programs that help students develop these skills. For example, the officer might arrange workshops on classroom management, advanced teaching methodologies, ICT in education, or soft skills such as communication and teamwork.

5. Maintaining Placement Records:

- Keeping detailed records of student placements is another critical task. This includes tracking which students have been placed, where they are employed, and their career progression. The placement officer also collects feedback from employers about the performance of graduates, which helps in improving the training and preparation of future batches.

6. Alumni Engagement:

- The Placement Officer collaborates with the Alumni Association to leverage the network of former students in helping current students secure jobs. Alumni might return to campus to provide mentorship, conduct mock interviews, or share their experiences in the field.

7. Promoting the college's Reputation:

- A significant part of the Placement Officer's role is to enhance the college's reputation among potential employers. By showcasing the skills and readiness of students, and the quality of education provided by the college, the Placement Officer helps establish the college as a preferred source of well-trained educators.

8. Feedback and continuous Improvement:

- The Placement officer collects and analyzes feedback from both students and employers to continuously improve the placement process. This may involve tweaking training programs, improving communication with employers, or adjusting the support provided to students during the placement process.

The placement officer, Dr. Madhuri Bendale, and assistant officer Ms. Joya Chaudhary, at Aishabai College of Education are pivotal in shaping the professional futures of students. By connecting students with employers, providing necessary career guidance, organizing recruitment activities, and ensuring that students are equipped with the skills needed for success, the placement officer plays a critical role in the college's mission to empower and prepare future educators.

5. Concession in tuition fees and hostel fees

At Aishabai College of Education, the institution is committed to making quality education accessible to all students. Recognizing the financial challenges that some students may face, the college offers concessions in tuition fees and hostel fees upon request.

Key Points:

1. Need-Based Concessions: Concessions are granted based on the financial needs of the student. Students can apply for fee concessions by submitting a formal request along with relevant documentation that demonstrates their financial situation.
2. Application Process: The process involves a thorough review of each application by a designated committee, ensuring that concessions are granted fairly and to those who genuinely require assistance.
3. Flexibility and Support: The institution also provides flexibility in fee payment schedules, allowing students to pay in installments if needed, further reducing the financial burden on students and their families.
4. Commitment to Accessibility: These concessions reflect the college's commitment to ensuring that financial constraints do not hinder deserving students from pursuing their education and achieving their academic goals.

This policy demonstrates Aishabai College of Education's dedication to fostering an inclusive educational environment where all students have the opportunity to succeed.
